

PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

Research Pathways

Undergraduate research is a cornerstone of our mission at Rutgers–Camden. Our goal is to provide as much support as possible in order for you to have a successful research experience. We offer research grants worth up to $1,500.00, and travel grants of up to $2,000.00. Travel grant applications are accepted on a rolling basis, while research grant applications are deadline-based: September 30, December 2, and April 28.

Philosophy majors are recommended to take the following courses before engaging in research:

- 50:730:111 Introduction to Philosophy
- 50:730:101 Introduction to Logic, Reason, and Persuasion
- 50:730:201 Symbolic Logic

Religion majors are recommended to take the following courses before engaging in research:

- 50:840:101 Introduction to Religious Studies
- 50:840:103 Introduction to World Religions

Additionally, philosophy and religion majors are encouraged to reach out to any member of the department to inquire about doing research. Students are also encouraged to think broadly about what might count as research in philosophy and religion and the many intersections it has in other disciplines, such as anthropology, sociology, childhood studies, and more.

The faculty listed below are Research Mentors who encourage you to contact them to learn more about research opportunities:
